Port Augusta City Council welcomes the State government's announcement to contribute to bridge duplication project

Port Augusta City Council (Council) welcomes the South Australian government's announcement that it will contribute $40 million to the construction of the Joy Baluch AM Bridge duplication.

Mayor Sam Johnson said he is 'pleased that the State government recognises the importance of the bridge to the national freight transport infrastructure network and to the Port Augusta community'.

Council thanks Minister Mullighan for progressing this important matter which the Port Augusta community has advocated in relation to for many years.
